

Approaches

- An agro-based institution (majorities are women)
- A the three-tired Community-based structure (easy access for women )
- A one door service ( access to finance, skill, technology)
- Results-based programming and management (heading toward entrepreneurship and access to market
- Social inclusive participation and gender sensitivity
- Local ownership
- Low administrative cost (Easy to sustain at local level)
- Needs-based approach (Community well fair)
- Database establishment

Model

SFACLs systemic approach is a unique model where small farmers are involved in managing the program through three-tire structure (group, inter group and main committee). This model has proven to be effective in providing financial (saving and credit) and non-financial (capacity building and social service) services to small holder farmers. It mainly prioritizes women, disadvantaged group and different ethnic group throughout the country.
